

Visit to Felbrigg Hall – Wednesday 7th June 2024

Our visit to Felbrigg Hall, near Cromer in Norfolk took place on Wednesday 7th June. One of the most elegant country houses in East Anglia, the Hall was built in stages beginning in Tudor times. It is set in a vast estate with a lake, a delightful walled garden and a number of marked walks through fields and woodland. Felbrigg was bequeathed to the National Trust in 1969.
